Beginning Oil Painting Workshop

With Barbara Gardner

Saturday, January 26, 2019

9:00 - 1:00

Registration deadline - Jan. 22

Workshop held at Jeffers' Bend

Environmental Center

Turn onto Metcalf Lane from North Main just past Riverside Cemetery entrance. Travel over the railroad and around the new Water Treatment facility to the right and we will meet in the building with the painted water cycle mural painted on the side.

During this workshop the instructor will be explaining how to begin a painting, mix colors and other basic skills. Beginners as well as those with some experience with painting are encouraged to attend.

Materials needed for class:

- Paper towels
- 2 11X14 Canvas panels

All other supplies will be provided by the instructor

About the Instructor:

Barbara grew up in Covington, Kentucky where at 10 years of age, she attended an art school provided for children in the Covington area. Her parents realized at that young age that drawing was her primary interest. Her interest in art has continued throughout her lifetime.

She received her BA in Fine arts from Austin Peay State University in 1981. Since 1977, she has been painting and teaching painting to many people in the Hopkinsville area. She has been a member of the Hopkinsville Art Guild from 1977 to present.

She often says, "I love the feeling I get when I paint. As I move the paint around I love that feeling of the gooey, squishy paints. I love starting out with a white canvas and ending up with a landscape or a painting of beautiful flowers. I truly love to paint no matter what the subject, but I guess flowers are my favorite. Flowers have always been especially important in my life. Of all of God's creations the flower has to be one of his greatest."

This class is limited to 12 participants. Deadline to register January 22, 2019

Free to Hopkinsville Art Guild members. Fee for Non Members $35.
